Cynthia has over thirty years of experience administering estates and trusts of high net worth individuals. Cynthia has worked in several major law firms throughout her paralegal career. She has extensive knowledge of probate, estate administration, trust administration, charitable foundations, estate tax, fiduciary income tax, and fiduciary accounting. Her sensitivity to others and her “can do” approach to her work results in clients feeling that they are in good hands during extremely emotional and unsettling times in their lives. She loves going to the theatre, old movies, Shakespeare and any BBC production on public television. Cynthia divides her time between Long Island, New York, where she was born, and Charleston, South Carolina.
